VOLUME XX

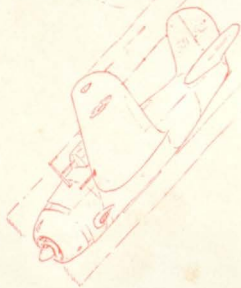

THE PEANUT

Published by the Students of
SUFFOLK HIGH SCHOOL
Suffolk, Virginia

FOREWORD

During the past year world-wide crises have awakened us to the fact that we are training for a far more complicated life than those before us. As true soldiers we have re-dedicated ourselves to the work that lies ahead—training for the great battle of life. In these pages the staff of the 1942 PEANUT has attempted to present the many activities in which this army has engaged. If, in future years, you can review this record and still experience the deep sentiment and loyalty attached to Suffolk High School as well as the joy of former days, the staff feels it has accomplished its purpose. Thus, with these ideals toward which to strive, the staff asks that you climb upon the reviewing stand and watch the parade of Suffolk High School soldiers in this PEANUT of 1942.

"EACH ONE GIVES HIS BEST FOR THE GOOD OF ALL."

The familiar picture above will always remain deeply imprinted in our minds. The informal gatherings on its steps in the spring and the same groups in its long halls in the winter bring back the true happiness spent in this building—our beloved camp.

In every group there is always one upon whom everyone can depend to do his job well. Mr. Goode was just such a quiet and efficient worker in performing his duties as Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds of the Suffolk Public Schools. His ever-present willingness to aid the pupils and teachers alike won for him the respect and friendship of all. For his years of faithful service we pay this last tribute to our late co-worker and friend, Mr. John H. Goode.

MISS MAMIE BASLER

DEDICATION

Quiet and unassuming in her manner, diligent in her work, and friendly in her attitude toward others best describes Miss Mamie Basler, our teacher and friend. Her simplicity and dependability will never be forgotten by those of us who have come in contact with her. Because of the pleasant memory she leaves with us and because of our appreciation for her favors and kind nature, we dedicate this VOLUME XX of THE PEANUT to her.

GENERALS - - - - -

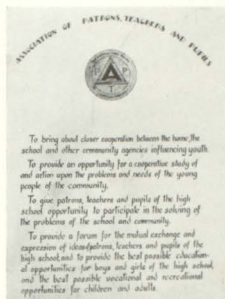

MR. STANLEY T. GODBEY
SUPERINTENDENT

Outstanding among the leading educators of Virginia, in his community and in the minds of the students, is Mr. Stanley T. Godbey, ending his second year as Superintendent of Suffolk Public Schools. Suffolk is fortunate in having this graduate of the University of Virginia to supervise the activities and guide the studies of the pupils of the Suffolk School System. Among the many groups in our community with which he is affiliated are the Suffolk Rotary Club, the Tidewater Boy Scout Council and the Presbyterian Church. His personal interest and close contact with his subordinates and equals have made him a favorite with the whole camp.

MR. W. T. HARRY PRINCIPAL

All trainees alike have one question in their minds when they are transferred to another camp: "How stiff is the general?" Perhaps you won't believe us when we tell you that ours is one that not only knows practically every fellow in camp but also has established a life-long friendship with many. Still he maintains the dignity of his rank and obtains the best of behavior and respect from his subordinates. His interest in our activities and undertakings makes him a constant adviser for our intricate problems, of teachers and pupils alike. It's an old belief that superiors are harsh, gruff, and glaring-eyed, but to find a friendly, pleasant, and considerate general such as this one is a rarity. Lucky, you say? We know it!

One of the main reasons our soldiers are so proud of their camp is that the patrons, pupils, and teachers through the A.P.T.P. work together so harmoniously and cooperatively. Suffolk High School has the distinction of having founded such an organization which has interested the three groups immensely.

At the regular monthly meeting such topics as the school curriculum, summer jobs for pupils, and school recesses are discussed among the groups and settled by them. Although this organization is still in its infancy, already it has brought about a better understanding of the students' problems on the part of the teachers and parents. Its future looks bright with the idea likely to spread to other camps. Never has a school found a more harmonious way in working out its problems.

LOOKING IN ON THE TRAINING - - - - -

How attentive are the members of the Public Speaking class as George Ben Stott "speaks his piece"!

Will we ever forget Miss Brinkley and her Latin classes? Finishing up the day's work are two students and the teacher.

Practical work in the First Aid classes took the members out-of-doors where they took turns playing victim and doctor.

One can almost hear the busy clicking of the typewriter keys as the students hit and miss with Miss Basler supervising.

The lure of the book-shelf and quiet corners brings many pupils to the Library each day.

Chemical smells, bottles, and Bunsen burners characterize Chemistry Lab. twice a week.

OUR SCHOOL BOARD

Our Advisory Board, composed of six public-spirited and progressive citizens, does much to set and promote the high standards of our camp. They meet once a month to solve the many difficult problems and to coordinate the work in all the departments of our vast army.

OUR SECRETARIES

Because former students of Suffolk High School hold the office of secretaries to our Generals, we feel that they are part of us. Seldom do we go to headquarters that we do not have a word with these capable assistants, always willing to cooperate.

OUR SOLDIERS

Sometimes the soldiers find it hard to be contented with fighting their battles with textbooks and pens. However, the realization that the training in education we get in Suffolk High School will always remain keeps us always pushing forward with higher goals in view. In the following pages we present our buddies, in whose faces you can read the honest, fighting spirits that will win the future victories of our country.

BRIGADIER GENERALS - - - - -

ASHBY DASHIELL

Suffolk High School during the past year has often been pointed out as the home of a future all-American football star in the person of Ashby Dashiell, co-captain of the 1941-42 team. His excellent broken field running on the gridiron, coupled with his accuracy on the basketball court, has made him a favorite with all the sports-loving students. Perhaps the silver cup that he won for such athletic skill will be only one of the many trophies he will earn. In other activities Ashby belongs to the Senior Boys' Hi-Y Club of which he is vice-president and is the presiding officer of his senior homeroom. Continual good nature has won for "Dopey" many friends, and with his genuine show of sportsmanship he has proved himself truly outstanding.

BETTY BROTHERS

That pretty little blonde who spent many hours in and out of school working diligently on this excellent publication, the 1942 PEANUT, is none other than Betty Brothers.

Betty is a person who really gets the most out of school life by entering into many and varied activities. Besides being a member of the Hi-Y, Playmakers, the Latin Club, and an honorary member of the Senate, she finds time to execute the duties of secretary-treasurer in the Sigma Sigma.

Betty is fun-loving, genuine, and dependable. It is her pleasing personality that accounts for her popularity among her fellow students. If you fail to recognize Betty any other way, just be on the look-out for her own particular little laugh. That's all the proof you need.

Certainly you will agree that Betty is an outstanding senior!

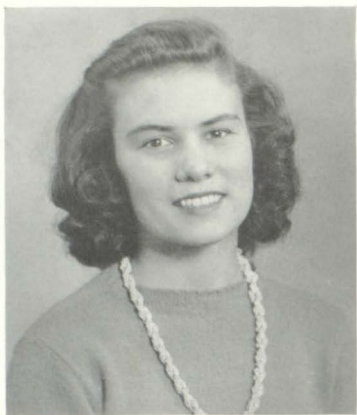

ELIZABETH SMITH

One part athlete, one part tease, and two parts friend, mixed together with a sizable portion of sincerity and dependability, produce such an outstanding senior as Elizabeth Smith. Whether you see her on the basketball court where she has broken all scoring records for three years and co-captained her team to another successful season, or in a Girls' Senior Hi-Y meeting over which she presided, you'll always find the same co-operative spirit and leadership ability. Perhaps her popularity with her superiors as well as her subordinates can be accounted for by her genuine interest in people. And we challenge you to find a better soldier anywhere than Elizabeth Smith, vice-president of the Senior Class.

MARGARET RAWLS

Another co-captain of the basketball team that kept the team on top for three years answers to the name of Margaret Rawls or "Lulu." Holding offices seems to attract this girl, for she capably carried out her duties as president of the French Club, secretary of the Wranglers' Club, president of the Junior Red Cross Council and circulation manager of the Peanut Picker. If you're not acquainted with this friendly, good-humored treasurer of the Senior Class, then you've missed many a good time. Other activities, such as the Sigma-Sigma, Girls' Hi-Y Club and tennis, round out the interests of this "swell" senior. Little wonder her classmates voted her a superlative!

ANITA SPIVEY

Scholarship, personality, and general excellence—these best account for another senior superlative, Anita Spivey. Her outstanding work, especially in English and foreign languages, has fitted her to execute efficiently the duties of literary editor of THE PEANUT and feature editor of the Peanut Picker—either one of which is a full-time job for any senior. A cheerleader, varsity basketball player, secretary of the Senior Class, Anita has also found time to represent Suffolk High in debating and public speaking, besides holding membership in the Latin Club, Sigma-Sigma and the Play-makers.

Because Anita has been so obliging, capable and willing to work, honest with everyone, and thoughtful, she has endeared herself to her fellow-students and teachers alike.

RAYMOND YATES

If you don't recognize this senior, then we're sure you've never been to Suffolk High School. Seldom does one find a person so well-liked and admired as Raymond Yates, who climaxed his high school record by being elected president of the Student Senate this year. Nor is his leadership limited to student government, for he co-captained the basketball team to a successful season. One can hardly mention him without commenting on his ability in athletics—basketball, tennis, and football—having played varsity in all for three years. Raymond's consideration for and friendliness toward others might well be founded on his membership in the Boys' Senior Hi-Y in which he was elected vice-president at the district meeting. Certainly big things are expected of this tall, good-looking senior.

OUR U. S. O.

One of the determining factors of any army is its morale. Never let it be said that Suffolk High School was lacking in activities and amusements. The unusually high spirit of our doughboys will lead them to many successes. Turn the following pages and you will see just what we mean . . .

In a democracy, an army is conducted by the people. Suffolk High School is no exception, for it boasts of a Student Senate, composed of representatives from each division, regulating and governing our actions while in camp. Included in this governing board is the Ways and Means committee, composed of the chairmen of the Senate committees which suggest measures and recommendations to the Senate. The plan that the Student Senate sponsor the annual fall play ticket campaign originated in this executive body, and having been presented to the Senate, went over in a big way with the soldiers. Also, representatives to the Student Cooperative Association Convention in November were nominated by the Ways and Means Committee and accepted by the Senate. No matter is too large or too small for the Senate to consider. Perhaps the reason that our soldiers' chests expand a bit with pride is that they have the opportunity to govern themselves.

Since our stage-minded soldiers delight in dramatics, the Playmakers have proved to be a popular organization. Shakespeare mixes with modern comedy and Maurice Evans rubs shoulders with our local talent. Yes, every phase of the dramatic world is touched in its discussions and programs.

Guest speaker during the year was Mr. Samuel T. Habel, who gave several Shakespeare readings before the club and its guests. Other activities included a trip to a nearby camp to see "Pygmalion," produced by The Little Theatre of Norfolk, and a skit on George Washington, acted out by members over WLP.M on February 22. In the spring, plans included a one-act play for the school and another for the district conference. Through such activities much talent and ability were unearthed in our local guild.

In extending dramatics over the whole camp, a cast of the fall play, "Big Hearted Herbert," was selected from the student body. This annual production met with greater success than ever.

Many a furlough and leave have been sacrificed by many a soldier for the sake of THE PEANUT. Long hours of writing and rewriting, combined with composing one dummy after another, best describe the toil and labors of the annual staff.

But don't get us wrong. The feeling of accomplishment and satisfaction of completion made us feel like a million. Those soldiers who fought as hard with the pen as any ever have with the sword feel rewarded with the results of this book.

Memories of camp life and old buddies fill these pages through the work of this staff. Something to carry with them as a souvenir while the battles rage is the best definition of the product of these soldiers' work. They feel that their task has been accomplished—the task of presenting to their buddies a true picture of their training life. What do you think?

Our soldiers are only human, and who doesn't enjoy reading about what the other fellow is doing? To satisfy the appetite of such news-hungry doughboys the Peanut Picker again this year publishes weekly the news and gossip of our camp. The work and time spent on this publication would startle many of the students, for the staff has to keep its eyes and ears open to catch the news. Perhaps the fellows already have heard a bit about the news articles, but who doesn't like to see his name in the paper? And there's no easier way to find out who the fellow in the next tent was who cut in on your girl. We feel certain that Suffolk High School will never have to do without its Peanut Picker because it has so many curious and interested readers.

Even the soldier has a craving for the finer things of life, and what better way can one express himself than through music? The Glee Clubs of Suffolk High School have given the other camps something to look up to with their mastery of the tunes. The chance to escape drilling third period and let out pent-up feelings through song is taken advantage of by many soldiers. Our new instructor, Miss Edith Taft, has taken up her new duties with the real spirit of a morale-builder. Inspired with renewed patriotism, the Glee Clubs gave many grand performances. Among these was the annual assembly program in which the Glee Clubs rendered many impressive and beautiful carols. Spring activities included the journey to Richmond to participate in the State Music contest.

New talent was unearthed in the practices, and many public appearances were demanded of the individual members. The boys and girls have rivaled each other in the progress of the two clubs. With such keen competition both clubs have shown unusual strides in advancement.

One of the major concerns of our army is to see that the soldiers are kept in high spirit. And as long as there's a soldier there will always be a song!

One of the organizations most closely connected with our army is the Junior Red Cross Council. Everyone, even the buck privates, realizes how important it is and does his best to push it along. Thus, the greatest number of participants are in the ninth and tenth grades; however, everyone offers his services particularly during the annual enrollment.

This year the council, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Johnson, filled thirty Christmas boxes. In November the council sponsored the Roll Call Drive including an assembly program in which a British movie, "We Won't Forget," was presented. Also a skit showing the proper way to enroll members was given by the council at the Adult Red Cross Roll Call Rally. In December the Junior Hi-Y helped the council in making fifty Christmas menu covers for our brothers, the sailors. The declaration of war induced the council to conduct a war drive for the Red Cross in camp during January.

Another year's work having been completed, the council disbanded in the spring until the following term.

In this changing modern world young people must acclimate themselves to the work they wish to pursue, and such preparation means intensive training. The young soldiers of the Diversified Occupations Club find that the apprenticeship they obtain from local merchants gives them a head start in the great battle of life. This curriculum, which was introduced in Suffolk High School just a few years ago, already has proved its worth, for more and more fellows are "signing up." This year the club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Alwin F. Lehner, held regularly monthly meetings and ordered pins for the members. The practical aim of the D. O. organization has placed many students in steady positions.

The rookies look up to their superiors as the junior clubs look up to the senior ones. The spotlight is definitely thrown on the Boys' Senior Hi-Y in this respect because the rookies look toward them for exemplary conduct. Thus this group is the instigator and barometer of our morale.

Their work in the community consists each year in donating money to fill Christmas baskets for the poor. In school, they provided recreation in the spring by entertaining their buddies at a dance. At their meetings, speakers have addressed them on topics, interesting and inspiring. Members attended the District Conference held in Portsmouth, in March, 1942, at which the topic, "Youth in a Confused World," was discussed. The future generals and leaders of tomorrow will be those soldiers now developing in the Boys' Senior Hi-Y.

The "big-sister" hostesses of Suffolk High School must have capable girls in their organization or the Girls' Senior Hi-Y could never have borne the brunt of such tasks that fell on their shoulders. Besides promoting its religious aims and guiding its members to a richer and fuller life as a Christian, it has organized a Red Cross Knitting Club within the camp and enrolled over half of the student body in knitting for their buddies across the waters in active service. Other duties they took upon themselves were playing Santa Claus to an unfortunate child in the community and decorating the halls at the holiday season. In January, the girls gave a unique dance which turned out to be a little bit of everything, including piano solos, singing, basketball, and anything else that happened to please the dancers.

Some of the members attended the Girls' State Conference in Martinsville and the district conference held in Portsmouth.

The camp owes the club a note of appreciation for its cooperation and work in promoting Christian living in Suffolk High School.

Those doughboys who aspire to make the best of themselves and who wish to do deeds and think thoughts along the Christian line make up the membership of the Boys' Junior Hi-Y Club under the sponsorship of Miss Sarah Lacy. They spread their work into the community at Christmas and provided baskets of food for the poor and needy of the city.

In school they devoted many of their meetings to parliamentary law with outside speakers addressing them on this subject. Entertainment in the nature of a Christmas dance was sponsored by these buck privates for the benefit of the whole camp. To keep in contact and cooperate with other Hi-Y clubs they sent a delegate each month to the Tidewater Council. Their various activities truly show the splendid work they are doing in guiding our younger buddies.

"To Create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character" states simply, but realistically, the purpose of the Girls' Junior Hi-Y. Not only do the members find this an inspiring creed but also have influenced others to such an extent that they have accepted it as their own. In maintaining these high standards the girls proposed a Hi-Y council for the four clubs that such cooperation might bring the groups closer together.

Their work extended into the community as they assisted in registration of men for the army on February 16. Red Cross work has also played a great part in their activities, for they joined their older sisters in making afghans for the soldiers. Miss Thelma Pruden's sponsorship has proved an inspiration to the younger sisters of the Hi-Y organization.

The meetings which are held twice a month, programs and business alternating, are devoted to Latin games and contests and various business problems. Somehow the members of the French classes and particularly those of the French Club are very optimistic in the face of the world situation. For, though the fall of France might mean no more contact with that homeland of the French language, the determined doughboys of Suffolk High School are keeping the spirit of the Free French alive by pursuing the study of its language and customs. Perhaps even soon they will find themselves on the fields of France liberating the French people. Then they can put that language to real use.

Among the many varied activities in the French Club was the joint Christmas party of the foreign language classes sponsored by this energetic group. In the spring the annual edition of the club paper, printed entirely in French, was rolling off the press. Also, plans for a dance were being forwarded to entertain the camp. Under the capable leadership of Miss Addie Rose Ellett, Le Cercle Français has distinguished itself in scholastic activities.

The Sigma Sigma has the distinction of being the only honorary club in Suffolk High School. To those soldiers who have shown their ability to use the pen as well as the gun a membership in this journalistic honorary organization is extended. All of its members some time or other have been active on the literary or business staff of our weekly publication, the Peanut Picker, and our annual, THE PEANUT. There is no designated meeting date, but from time to time the members get together to have fun or to promote some project in school.

The large membership illustrates the unusual quantity of literary talent that is present in our camp. Sponsored by Miss Frances Armistead, the club aims to promote the interests of journalism within our camp grounds, and who knows but some day the club can boast of a famous writer who was a former member of the Sigma Sigma?

OUR MANEUVERS

Boosted by the morale displayed in the preceding pages our Red Raiders have had an unusual, successful season in its "maneuvers" against other camps. The records in the following pages best show the results of hard practices and superior coaching. We proudly present the "maneuvers" of Suffolk High School in 1941-42 . . .

Mr. Albert Hawkins

Miss Emily Pittman

Mr. Howard Hollingsworth

OUR TRAINING STAFF

Again Suffolk High enjoyed a great athletic year, thanks to our excellent coaching staff. Whether in our gym classes or in the actual contest we learned not only the rules of the game but more important, lessons in sportsmanship.

One of the greatest seasons of football was experienced only because of the long, patient hours "Cap'n Al" and "Cap'n Holly" spent with the Raiders in practice. The people of Suffolk really became football conscious as they watched the Hawkinsmen emerge victorious again and again. And they realized the part those two superiors who directed our maneuvers had in it, especially that of "Cap'n Al" Hawkins.

Then came basketball, and we saw Miss Emily Pittman's girls win the Class B Championship. With such a record, her ability cannot be over-estimated. Miss Pittman kept the girls in tip-top condition with her excellent training rules. We are also proud of "Cap'n Al's" basketball team which piled up numerous victories including those over Class A schools—Hampton, Maury and Granby.

We never realize how much someone means to us until he leaves. Such were our feelings when Coaches Hawkins and Hollingsworth were transferred into another branch of the service—one in industry, the other in the naval forces. "Cap'n Al" has established a tradition in his seven years at Suffolk High which will not die, and we came to know and love "Cap'n Holly" in his seven months with us. When they left us, we felt that we lost not only our instructors but also close friends.

CHEER LEADERS

"Come on everybody! Yell!" How familiar these words are to anyone who has ever attended a game in which a Suffolk High School team was a contestant! After these morale builders have passed such encouraging words to their buddies—even more encouraging ones are directed to the team—whether winning or losing. What maneuvers could be lost with such an enthusiastic and genuine spirit behind it—the spirit of S. H. S.? Whether these yells went out across the fields at Peanut Park or echoed in the gym at school—they always seemed to be heard by the Raiders. Often at the darkest moments during a game, the leaders would arouse from the students a supporting cheer which would spur the team on to victory.

Always attired neatly in the traditional red, white, and blue, the squad was there—rain or shine, in Suffolk or out of town—to boost the team as best it could. This year's new members were Helen Whitley, Betty Jones, and Claudia Moser, with Anita Spivey, William Johnson, and Gordon Wills representing last year's lettermen. With the aid of this ardent and peppy sextet, the clean sportsmanship of Suffolk High School has been sustained.

1941 FOOTBALL

The Red Raiders experienced one of their greatest seasons of football this year. No one will ever forget this brilliant team, captained by Ashby Dashiell and Clifton Harvell, nor the victorious maneuvers won for Suffolk.

The season began with our heart breaking defeat by a larger army from Maury, 13-0, but from then on it was one victory after another, including those over Oceana, Norview, Fredericksburg, South Norfolk, Holy Trinity, Chester, and Cradock.

Then the Hawkmen journeyed to Fort Defiance, where they triumphed over Augusta Military Academy, 6-0. On this memorable trip the team was the guest of the University of Virginia in Charlottesville. Finally came the close of the season and the Raiders went to Clifton Forge for the Eastern Virginia Class B Championship playoff. Although we lost the title, 19-0, no one can deny that our team was one of the first in the state.

Suffolk chalked up 229 points over their opponents' 50. One of the greatest backs in our history, Ashby Dashiell, was responsible for 98. Closely behind him were Raymond Yates with 52 and Billy Earley with 36.

Managing this great team was George Ben Stott, a senior, assisted by Ralph Eley.

BOYS' 1942 BASKETBALL

It wasn't a championship season of basketball for the Red Raiders; nevertheless, it was an outstanding one. With Raymond Yates and Billy Earley as co-captains, eighteen games were won, including victories over Maury, Granby and Hampton. Two of those lost were to South Norfolk, who went on to win the Eastern Virginia Class B title. Newport News, the Class A Champions, beat the Raiders only four points, 27-23, and those on foul shooting.

Suffolk scored 847 points to their opponents' 648 for an average of 37 points per game. James Foster was the high scorer for the season with 219 points, being closely trailed by Dewey Howell with 200. Also close behind the two forwards were Billy Earley and Raymond Yates. Lettermen finishing this year are Ashby Dashiell, Raymond Yates, Bill Earley and Bob McGahee, who ably managed the team of 1941-42.

GIRLS' 1942 BASKETBALL

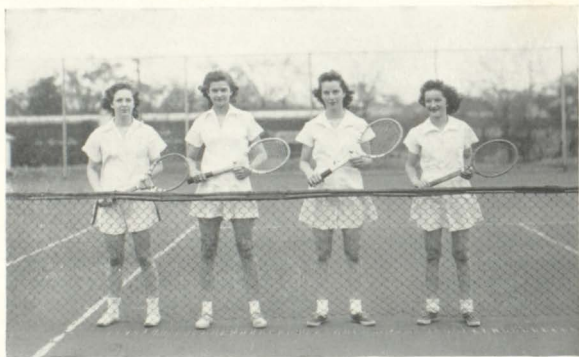

For the seventh consecutive year the Girls' Suffolk High School basketball team, coached by Miss Emily Pittman, has walked off with the Class B Championship title. This year, with Margaret Rawls and Elizabeth Smith acting as co-captains, they won all games except one—that with the Madison College freshmen. In the conference games the team won easily over South Norfolk, Oceana, Cradock, and Norview. The fastest and closest game of the season was with the Alumnae, with the high school lassies winning by a point. The schedule for the season also included Chuckatuck, Windsor, Hopewell, Franklin, and the County All-Stars. After a successful season the girls had a trip to Harrisonburg where they lost the only game to the Madison College freshmen.

The total scores of the season were 728 points for Suffolk and 362 points for the opponents. Once again Elizabeth Smith led in scoring with 397 points to her credit. This score even exceeds her last year's record. In the first game of the season, with Chuckatuck, she piled up a score of 40 points which marked the high score per game. Runners up for the season were Margaret Rawls and Anita Spivey, making the three high scorers all seniors. This year the lettermen who are finishing are Juanita Smith, Anita Spivey, Margaret Rawls, Nell Carr and Elizabeth Smith. Managing the 1941-42 team was Margaret Butler, assisted by Helen Whitley.
